PETITIONING THE COURT

To issue a warrant.

The probation officer believes that the offender has violated the following condition(s) of supervision:

Violation Number	Nature of Noncompliance
-------------------------	--------------------------------

1	Mandatory Condition # 2: The defendant shall not commit another Federal, state, or local crime.

Supporting Evidence: On October 25, 2016, Shauna Gunning signed her judgment relative to case number 2:13CR00177-RMP-2, indicating she understood all conditions ordered by the Court. Specifically, Ms. Gunning was made aware by her U.S. probation officer that she was not to commit another Federal, state, or local crime.

On May 21, 2017, Shauna Gunning was allegedly involved in a vehicle collision that injured several individuals; she then fled the scene of the collision. Specifically, she rear-ended a vehicle that was occupied by a female driver and three children. The three children in the vehicle sustained injuries. Following the collision, she drove to her residence, where she was observed by neighbors exiting her wrecked vehicle, and stumbling around. When police officers responded, Ms. Gunning denied being involved in an accident. Officers observed Ms. Gunning's damaged vehicle. They also recovered parts from her vehicle at the scene of the collision. Furthermore, the victim of the accident positively identified Ms. Gunning as the driver that hit her vehicle and left the scene.

Subsequently, Ms. Gunning was arrested for felony hit and run. Charges remain pending in Spokane County Superior Court.
